

Cambridge Women's Resources Centre

CWRC have women's centres in Cambridge and Peterborough, providing support, courses and information to empower women across Cambridgeshire.

This long established and constantly evolving community of women offers a variety of services to empower women. We provide practical support and information on many challenging day to day issues, including guidance on career development, support and information on debt and finance, family and parenting. Our centres also host a number of fun and practical informal groups, workshops and networking events. Offering a safe, trauma-informed environment for all who walk through our doors, CWRC encourages and facilitates a sense of friendship and companionship; empowering women and helping them to take steps to a better future.
